Will be Offered by Man
Who Murdered His Son-in-Law

YOUNG MAN'S FATHER

And Gun User Have Been
Friends Since Boyhood—
Don't Want Extreme Penalty for Murderer But Term of Imprisonment
Instead.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Haverstraw, N. Y., July 25.—A friendship that began when William
V. Cleary, town clerk of this village, and Frederick M. Newman, one of the owners of the Rockland County Messenger were boys is recalled in a statement by the latter as a reason for not wanting to see Cleary, the murderer of his son, Eugene M. Newman, pay the extreme penalty for his crime.

Young Newman was shot to death
in the town clerk's office in the town
hall on Thursday when he asked Cleary's forgiveness for having eloped
with his daughter, Anne Cleary.
They were married a week ago today
at Weehawken, N. J., and the boy carried his marriage certificate to show to the father of his bride.

"I don't want Bill killed," said
Mr. Newman, the father. "We went to school together; we were political and social friends; my paper always backed him up and we have joked
together about this affair of our children, but Bill was wrong, my boy
was all right, and Bill must not be set at liberty through politics or any other means. He must have a term of imprisonment."

Cleary, meanwhile, is confined in the county jail at New City on a charge of murder in the first degree
for the killing of his son-in-law, although he has been warned not to discuss his case, he has ventured to make one statement in explanation
for his act. He said that gossip about his daughter and the son of his friend caused him to worry "until he did not know what he was doing, when he killed the boy."

Evidence of three witnesses to the murder at the preliminary inquest yesterday showed that Eugene Newman, with his wedding certificate
ready to show to his father-in-law,
was shot down before he could draw
it from his pocket or could utter a word.

Cleary's defense, it appears from statements made here, will be emotional insanity.

WASHINGTON HOME IS PRESENTED TO AMERICAN PEOPLE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Sulgrave, Eng., July 25.—The first formal ceremony in honor of the one hundred years peace between the English speaking nations occurred here today when Sulgrave
manor, the home of the family of George Washington, purchased for $42,500 subscribed in Great Britain,
was handed over to members of the centenary commission as a gift to the American people.

This quaint village was in holiday attire in honor of the occasion. The visiting party consisted of the American Ambassador Walter Hines Page,
the Duke of Teck, Lord Shaw, Shirley Benn, member of the house of commons, H. S. Ferris, secretary of the committee, Harry Brittain, secretary of the Pilgrims society and Arthur Branscombe, auditor of the history of the Washington family. They were greeted by the mayor and other officials of the municipality in their official robes, after which school children sang the national anthems of both the United States and Great Britain.

The party then proceeded in motor cars to the manor where at the ancient doorway the Duke of Teck
handed the keys to Ambassador Page and thence to the ancient church where Washington's ancestors are buried.

A Queen Eleanor Cross erected
in 1824 and which now stands in a new portion of the city of Northampton, the spot where the emigrating Washingtons took leave
of the family, the centenary party
was received by the mayor and local officials of Northampton, also in robes.

A reception and luncheon followed
in the guild hall.

Rep. Ferris, of Oklahoma, in Charge of Administration's Conservation Legislation

Scott Ferris, that's all, but it means a great deal in the Middle West and some day it will be United States Senator Ferris. Ferris is head of the House public lands committee, the chaperone of Secretary Lane's conservation policies in Congress, the author of numerous bills, and one of the liveliest wires, figuratively speaking, that ever came out of the plains. Ferris is a young Democrat from Lawton, used to hang up his hat in the Oklahoma legislature and has represented his district in the past four Congresses. He is a lightning-speed talker, clear-headed,
a fighter and a clincher.

Divorce Prevention Bureau Reunites Several Families At First Session Yesterday

Chicago, July 25.—The newly created divorce prevention bureau of the municipal court of Chicago, the first bureau of the kind in this country, opened its doors yesterday
and signaled the inauguration of its work by reuniting families. In the four cases Judge Torri-

suffering on innocent children.
Playing upon the parents' love for their children he sent the four pairs
from the bureau arm in arm and

ROUSING MEETING OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEEMEN

The Democratic-Central committee
of Licking county met in its last session before the primary election in the convention room of the court house Saturday afternoon.

Chairman James J. Hill called the meeting to order at 1:40 o'clock. Secretary R. E. McGonagle called the roll and nearly all of the members were present.

Chairman Hill briefly addressed the meeting on the purposes of the call,
outlining the business to be transacted. The attention of the committeemen was called to registration days, August 6 and 7. He stated that if no name for a central committeeman was printed on the ballot, a space would be reserved for that purpose. Out of 42 precincts named for central committeemen, candidates
names had only been filed from 13.

Mr. C. H. Spencer, editor of the Newark Advocate, then addressed the body upon invitation of Chairman Hill. He stated that the Democratic outlook was very much brighter than
in years, and cited some of the accomplishments of the national and state administrations.

Ex-State Senator William E. Miller
talked briefly to the committeemen,
speaking of the new Democratic principles that had recently been put into practice, and urged all of the Democrats to turn out at the primary election.

Mr. John Sullivan gave a very inspiring talk and spoke of the enthusiasm in the county. He urged that a good big vote at the primaries meant
a good big vote at the final election.

Hon. Henry Keller spoke briefly and stated that the right to vote is not a privilege but a responsibility.

Frank Granger of Granville, gave an enthusiastic talk, speaking of the political conditions in that township.

Cliff H. Rosebrough referred to the opportunity given the voters on August 11, to vote for a United States senator from Ohio and urged the importance of the polls.

Frank T. Mercer gave a good talk on the importance of naming committeemen at the primary election.

James Layton of Lima township,
who has voted for 44 years in one precinct gave an inspiring talk to the assembled committeemen.

The meeting was adjourned after an inspiring talk was given by Chairman Hill.

EIGHT BLOCKS DESTROYED BY A "MOVIE" FIRE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Jasonville, Ind., July 25.—After a night of total darkness, caused by the destruction of sixty-five business
houses and residences by fire yesterday afternoon, Jasonville turned today toward the work of reconstruction.
All told, an area of eight city
blocks was laid in waste by the fire
which started in a moving picture house, resulting in the death of John Hughes, a teamster, crushed under falling walls, and causing losses
roughly estimated today at $300,000.
The ruins are still smoldering today.

EXTENSION ASKED FOR BY SERBIA

In Which to Reply to the Demands of Austrian Government

CRISIS PRECIPITATED

And the Whole of Europe
Threatened With War—
Austria, Germany and Italy May Be Opposed By Russia, France and England.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Vienna, July 25.—Shortly before
6 o'clock the Austro-Hungarian minister of Belgrade presented a note to the Serbian foreign office
saying the Serbian reply was unsatisfactory. The Austro-Hungarian minister and the staff of the legation
then left Belgrade.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Belgrade, July 25.—Serbia, according to sources usually in close touch with the foreign office in Belgrade, has requested Austria for an extension of time in which to reply
to the note asking for a delay until the Serbian parliament which has been summoned to an extraordinary session shall have been consulted. It is also stated in authoritative circles that Serbia is ready to grant
the Austrian demands as far as possible without damage to her national prestige.

The election of members of the Serbian parliament has been proposed and the members of parliament have been ordered to meet in special session to discuss the situation between Austria and Serbia.

The Serbian press in its comments
divided opinion, some of the newspapers demand the refusal of and others compliance with the Austrian government's demands.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Vienna, July 25.—The general public here looks forward to Serbia's decision in connection with the Austrian note with the greatest composure, although the people know it to be a question of peace or war. A number of patriotic demonstrations have been held but there is no sign of nervousness.

A dispatch from Belgrade to the Neu Freie Press, says Serbia has decided to accept the Austrian demands
under protest.

A war which may involve the whole of Europe is threatened as the result of the slaying of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and Austria's peremptory note to Serbia, demanding that the government of the country, a subject
of which was the assassin, give a satisfactory apology and disclaimer of all connection with the murder within 24 hours.

The answer must be made before 6 o'clock tonight. There is no notice of its coming and an extremely grave crisis has been precipitated. Both Germany and Russia are preparing to take action.

It matters are pushed to the extreme those two powers will be ranged
on opposite sides and may even drag
their respective allies into the conflict.

This will mean that Austria, Germany and Italy will be opposed by Russia, France and England. It is yet unknown what reply the Serbian
government intends to make to Austria's ultimatum, but the opinion in Belgrade is that the matter will be settled diplomatically. Russia yesterday tried to get an extension of the time limit fixed in the Austrian ultimatum. "Falling in that, she is prepared for action."

Vienna is in a state of war fever
today. A nearly unanimous opinion demands that there must be no haggling over terms and that Serbia must say "yes" or "no" to the demand for her apology at once.

SAY SERBIA HAS ACCEPTED THE ULTIMATUM

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
London, July 25.—Serbia has accepted Austria-Hungary's ultimatum,
according to a special cablegram received here this evening from Bel-

of the stock exchanges gave a strong indication of the fears felt by the

widely expressed that armed contact between the nations would be avoided and the Russian view of the operation exercised on a Slav nation was watched closely as it was felt that on the decision of St. Petersburg as to whether Russia would actively support Serbia in resisting Austria's demands depended the final outcome
of the controversy.

Many rumors were current, some asserting that Austria had given Serbia further time in which to reply to her peremptory note, others
that she had refused to do so and still others that Serbia maintained
an attitude of defiance and was preparing for the worst eventualities.

Statesmen in all countries meantime were making endeavors to bring about a peaceable solution and all sought to restrain movements of panic.

Serbia's reply to Austria will be a partial acceptance of her demands
according to advices reaching official centers in London today. Serbia
will grant the demands in reference to the punishment of those concern-

of the heir to the Austrian throne
and will consent to do everything in connection with that matter which a civilized state can do without permitting an infringement of its sov-

THREE MEMBERS TO CONSTITUTE THE NEW BOARD

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Columbus, July 25.—Persons who believe their property has been assessed this year at too high a value
may appear before a district board of complaint after August 3 and present
their reasons for believing a reduction may be made. The state tax commission today issued instructions for the organization of boards of complaint on that date. They consist of three members each, appointed several months ago by the tax commission,
with the county auditor acting as ex-officio secretary. This board takes the place of the old board of review.

After electing one member chairman on Monday, August 3, a board of complaint will be ready to start work.
The Warnes taxation law by which they were created, authorizes such a board to order a reduction of any assessment after notifying the district
assessors, or to increase the valuation
after notifying the owner of the property.

Salaries of members of the board,
and the length of time which they
shall be allowed to finish their work
this year will be dictated by the state tax commission about the time the board members start their work. The auditor is to receive $5 a day when the board is in session for his services
as secretary. The number of clerks and employees also will be fixed by the tax commission at that time. Employees must be selected from eligible lists to be furnished by the state civil service commission.

Temporary provisional appointments must be authorized by the state
civil service commission also.

A board of complaint may investigate any assessment only after formal complaint has been made on a blank
which will be furnished for that purpose.

"The jurisdiction of the board is limited to complaints against valuation upon the tax list of 1914," says
the instruction circular sent out today by the state tax commission,
"except that as to addition and corrections made during the tax year 1915 to tax lists of that year and previous years, the board has jurisdiction to hear and dispose of complaints. If omitted property is discovered the district assessor shall be notified."

A board of complaint has no authority to issue subpoenas or compel the attendance of witnesses. There is no authority for the payment of fees
of witnesses and other expenses incidental to the production of testimony.
Unless instructed by the state tax commission to travel outside of the county, members of the board will not be entitled to traveling expenses.

Reading of "Mysterious" Letters and Physical Collapse of Mme. Caillaux in Court Room This Morning Stir Emo- tions of Excitable Frenchmen

TRIAL MAY EXTEND FAR INTO NEXT WEEK

Reading of Former Premier's Love Letters In Public Causes Prisoner to Fall Unconscious and Session is Hastily Adjourned—Physicians In Attendance Say
Mme. Caillaux Has Broken Down Completely—Quarrel Between Two Judges Arose Over a Dispute Which Occurred Late Last Night It is Said.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Paris, July 25.—The chief judge challenging one of his colleagues to a duel, the reading of the "mysterious" letters which were supposed to affect the case so profoundly, and
the physical collapse in court of Madame Caillaux, were three incidents which today stirred the emotions in connection with the trial of
Mme. Caillaux for the murder of Gaston Calmette.

A peculiarly French atmosphere
was lent to the affair by the quarrel
of the judges. This was added to by the piquant contents of the former premier's love letters, whose recital
before the public caused the prisoner
to fall unconscious and to remain
for a long time in a swoon.

Beyond the reading of the letters
little progress was made and it was generally expected that the trial
would extend far into next week.

The letters read in court today
were not, as had been generally assumed, those which were supposed to have been in the hands of the assassinated editor and the threat of whose publication was understood to have driven Mme. Caillaux to commit the crime.

In the meantime Mme. Caillaux
had been laid upon a bench in an anteroom where she was surrounded by doctors.

One of the republican guards took off his tunic and made a pillow for her.

The physicians who had thought
she was suffering merely from a passing fainting spell, decided when she remained unconscious, to give her a hypodermic injection of ether.

Mme. Caillaux appeared to have broken down completely and was breathing with difficulty and such
was her condition that her husband
was admitted to her side.

The letters were written in the second person singular, indicating only friendship. The first of them said:

"My dear little Riri (an affectionate diminutive for Henrietta):

"When I met thee, I felt the im-
pulsion of all my being toward thee.
I was unhappy. I was humiliated and wounded. I threw myself towards thee, with a furious passion.
With splendid courage thou hast re-
conquered thy liberty asking of me
but one promise—to give thee my love. There was between another person and myself such a difference
of character—etc."

While this portion of the letter was being read Mme. Caillaux disappeared completely behind the side of the prisoners' enclosure and her crouched body was shaken with nervous tremors. The reading continued:

"We have everything to fear from a woman's fury."

M. Caillaux, in his missive, then entered into details of the local political situation and other matters
and said he thought he might not enter the contest at the general elections for the chamber of deputies in 1910.

The second letter, sixteen pages in length, was begun on October 18, 1909, and finished on the following day. It was written on the official note paper of the prefecture of the department of the Sarthe and said:
"My beloved little Riri—At last I have a minute to write thee."

Then followed a long account of a cattle show at Leemans and of a visit by M. Caillaux to Paris and it then resumed:

"Thou must be very reasonable to stay at Dinard for the present. I fear only one thing, blackmail. Perhaps some one will make a scandal.
Sometimes I am very discouraged.
What a life. I have but one consolation—thee."

The letter concludes:
"A thousand million kisses over all your adorable little body."

After Mme. Caillaux swooned the sitting of the court was immediately
suspended amid great uproar.

As soon as the court had opened
today Maitre Labori began reading

some of the Gueydan letters. He remarked when he took up the second one:

"In this you will find burning love but nothing indecent as common rumor has reported."

In the letter, M. Caillaux, writing to the present Mme. Caillaux before his divorce from Mme. Gueydan, referred to the happiness he would feel
when he could "press a million kisses
over your dear body."

While the reading was going on
Mme. Caillaux, with her head bent low, was crying bitterly. Her sobs
could be heard all over the courtroom. Then with a sigh she fell prostrate to the floor. Two Republican guards standing near raised her
and carried her out of the chamber.
The four judges at once rose from their seats and Judge Albanel announced the suspension of the hearing.

Mme. Caillaux later recovered consciousness and said she felt strong enough to go on with the hearing.

M. Caillaux then assisted her into the prisoner's enclosure in court
and a chair was brought for her to sit on instead of the prisoner's bench.
She was livid and haggard and her features were drawn.

After he had seen her comfortably arranged, M. Caillaux took his place once more among the witnesses and Maitre Labori made the announcement that no more letters would be read.

The surgeons who made the autopsy on Gaston Calmette were then examined.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Paris, July 25.—A challenge to a duel was sent today by Judge Louis Albanel, presiding judge of the court, to Judge Louis Dagory, one of the three other judges sitting on the bench with him.

The quarrel between the two judges arose out of an incident
which occurred at the palace of justice late last night, but the nature of which could not be ascertained.

The seconds appointed by Judge
Albanel are General Jules Dalstein,
former military governor of Paris
and Emile Brunet de Laborie.

When the discussion concerning the reading of Mme. Gueydan's letters seemed to be going unfavorably
for the defense during yesterday's hearing Judge Albanel announced that there would be a recess. The Figaro affirms today that Judge
Dagory then said in low tones,
"you dishonor us, sir."

The two judges after going into their private room during the recess
engaged in a heated discussion, it was said.

Eventually Judge Dagory admitted that he had said more than he had meant to say and apologized.
Maitre Henri Robert, Labori and Chenu intervened as peacemakers
and the incident was regarded as closed. This morning, however, a report of it was made public on the front page of the Figaro which left Judge Albanel no option but to send his seconds to his colleague.

PORTE POSTPONES PROPOSED FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Hammondsport, N. Y., July 25.—
Lieut. John C. Porte will not attempt to fly across the Atlantic until October. This decision was reached today
as the result of a conference between Glenn Curtiss, Lieut. Porte and Will
Gash, the personal representative of Rodman Wanamaker.

Mr. Curtiss said that while it was possible to reassemble the machine
and rush it to New York in time for the steamer sailing for Newfoundland
August 1, it would be advisable
to take time to rebuild the machine
properly and to make changes suggested by the experiments of the past month.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION ATLANTIC CITY

Westerville, O., July 25.—The greatest gathering of temperance forces in the world's history will be the biennial convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America to be held on the Million Dollar Pier at Atlantic City, N. J., July 6-10, 1915.

On the pier there are four large auditoriums and a number of smaller halls. Reservation of these buildings has been made. The joint seating capacity of the big auditorium is 17,000.

As was the case in the Columbus convention in 1913, representation at the Atlantic City meeting will be based on one delegate from each individual church organization, each local young people's society, each Sunday school and each subordinate unit of a temperance society or lodge. It is expected 30,000 delegates will attend.

No phase of the alcoholic problem, and no feature of warfare against it will be neglected in the exhibit or in the carrying out of the program of the convention.

It is not too early, for churches, Sunday schools, young people's societies and temperance organizations to announce the coming of the convention and to prepare to be represented in it.

Newspapers And the Pulpit

THE DETERMINED STAND.

By A. Q. Miller of the Belleville Telescope.

I T will be conceded that both the press and the pulpit have an important work to perform.

I find in Job xix, 23, the following text, "Oh, that my words were now written that they were printed in a book."

So we see, even in the time of Job, the power of publicity was recognized, and the recognition of that power has increased every day.

Presidents, kings and potentates bow under the power of publicity; rulers are deposed and governments are changed by the influence of the press. Equipped with this great power does the editor carefully weigh and consider his responsibility? Is he fully alert to the possibilities that lie before him?

It will not be disputed that the newspaper standard in this country is higher today than it ever was before. This does not mean that there is no room for improvement. It should be borne in mind that a newspaper is not exclusively a public utility, a moral agency or a vehicle alone for the "uplift."

Incidentally it is a business institution, with business problems to solve, with financial obligations and payrolls to meet. It is subjected to the commercial atmosphere of the day and to the environment of the counting room, though it may be said that few, if any, business institutions stand as far above this environment as does the press.

We hear a great deal in this age about "giving the people what they want." It is a palpably erroneous idea. No properly constituted newspaper will any more think of giving its readers in the broad sense "what they want" than would a fond mother think of giving her child a mirror and a hammer because the child cared for it.

To make this concession to the public would be to let the momentary thoughts prevail, to let the temporary passions run riot, to cater to the lowest rather than to the highest ideals in life. It should not be forgotten that the opportunity or temptation to do wrong is stronger than the tendency or impulse to do right.

There are certain ethical principles of right, certain standards of justice and equity, that are as immovable as the rock of Gibraltar that both press and pulpit must take a determined stand for if they would live up to their fullest opportunities and duties.

The Oasis in the Desert of Activities!

Those who habitually go to church like to go the year round—they ask for no vacation—they go because they like it.

Those who are not, habitually, church goers, might take a summer vacation by attending some place of worship.

The church service offers rest and refreshment—mental and physical comfort—and is an oasis in the desert of life.

There is plenty of life, plenty of life in the life of today—plenty of activity, plenty of worries and perplexities.

The great desideratum is freedom from worries—freedom from feeling and struggling.

The logical, reasonable, desirable rest and refreshment of churchgoing is recommended for ailments of mind, soul and body.

To the person of limited means it appeals, because the greatest amount of refreshment is possible for a small investment of time and thought.

To the person of large means it is desirable because of the opportunity to help—an investment of energy with a large return of satisfaction in the results of the work.

For a possibility of the good, desirable because it offers to the busy man it is a fine thing value out of the day's rest, stimulation, mentally, from the sermon, and a renewal of spiritual strength.

"Thou Hast Loved Righteousness, and Hated Iniquity; Therefore God, Even Thy God, Hath Anointed Thee With the Oil of Gladness"

DOCTOR GLADDEN SAYS AGITATORS FOES OF CHRIST

It is evident that we are in for another fierce anti-Catholic "crusade," writes the Rev. Washington Gladden, the distinguished Congregationalist minister of Columbus, in Harper's Weekly for July 18. "These visitations are periodic; the term has not perhaps been calculated, but we shall be able, one of these days, to give the formula. The period is probably a little longer than that of the seven-year locusts. Whether the pupa of the cicada papaphobiana burrows in the earth during the time of its disappearance, is not known; there are those who think that it goes deeper. To those to whom the happiness and peace of this native land is dear, these visitations of religious rancor and intolerance are most unwelcome. An epidemic of smallpox or yellow fever is a light affliction compared with these seasons of religious contention and suspicion and enmity. What we are going to see during the next few months is something like this: the great mass of the Protestant Christians of this country arrayed against the great mass of the Roman Catholic Christians—each party thinking and saying hard and bitter and violent things about the other; each party cherishing the worst suspicions about the motives and purposes of the other; each party believing that the other is plotting to take away its liberties, and perhaps to exterminate it by assassination or carnage. Not all the Protestants and not all the Roman Catholics will give room in their hearts to such dark thoughts and fears and enmities, but most of them will; and the mob-mind, which always dominates these epidemics, will reduce to silence the majority of those who know that this is mainly insanity."

"The first mutterings of this eruption of mud and slime are audible already. Those of us who have passed through this misery two or three times know what to expect. It is being whispered now in Protestant circles that the Catholics are meeting by stealth, from night to night, in the basements of their churches, to drill for the impending insurrection. If the church has no basement, it matters not; the story is just as freely told, and just as readily believed."

After referring to the panic into which thousands of Protestants were thrown during the A. P. A. movement by a stupid fabrication purporting to be a Papal encyclical, Dr. Gladden continues: "Such hysterical fears will soon be agitating hundreds of thousands of breasts in this enlightened land. It is quite impossible for anybody to forge a tale of horror or treachery or villainy which will not be eagerly believed by millions of Christians in this country concerning their fellow Christians, when these religious lunatics begin to be epidemic."

"The fact is that we have got to learn to live together in this country—Protestants and Catholics. The only question is whether we shall live together in peace or in enmity. If we are to have peace, we must study the things that make for peace; each party must be ready to see the good side of the other and not the evil; each party must be ready to learn to put the best and not the worst construction on the words and deeds of the other; must avoid all bitter and uncharitable judgments; must put away all thoughts of domination. There is no worse enemy of Christ and his country than the man who seeks to inflame and poison the minds of either Protestants or Catholics with suspicions and fears and resentments and enmities toward the other."

"Instead of listening to horrible tales of what Catholics are doing in distant places, sit down and make out a list of all the Catholic men and women you know in business, in professional life, in the philanthropies, in society, in the shops and factories, in the kitchens; put down their names and think them over, and see whether you will be able to convince yourselves that these men and women are capable of doing the kind of things which these tales attribute to them. How many of these people, do you think, are plotting to rob you of your liberties or to murder you in your beds? And whenever you talk about Roman Catholics, in public or private, remember that these are the people you are talking about."

EDITOR BOOSTS WATER WAGON

THOUSANDS HAVE CLIMBED ON VIA THE NEAL INSTITUTE.

"The water wagon," says the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times in a column editorial, demand for temperate living, "is no longer a joke, but the vehicle of individual safety upon which many take pride and all may profit in riding."

That's good. Thousands have climbed aboard this vehicle of individual safety by taking the Neal Treatment for alcoholism and they are gainers in health, efficiency and happiness. As this Pittsburgh editor well says: "The most efficiently conducted concerns and institutions insist upon temperance among their employees."

Thousands of former excessive drinkers have tested the glorious worth of the Neal Treatment by spending three days at the old Dr. George R. Bliss homestead, now the Columbus Neal Institute.

The Neal Treatment is harmless, purely vegetable; taken internally, with no dangerous hypodermic injections. Investigate or have your physician investigate. Write or phone for booklet. MANY VISITORS ARE EXPECTED ON LABOR DAY

The Labor Day committee of the Trades Assembly held their weekly meeting Friday evening and the secretary reported he had sent invitations to Zanesville, Coshocton, Mt. Vernon, Mansfield and Utica councils and unions to participate. Over one hundred invitations have been sent to Newark manufacturers and industries as well as mercantile interests in Newark to participate in the industrial section of the big parade to be arranged for and will pass over the line of march promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. It is the intention of the committee in charge of the parade to make unusual efforts for the complete success of the industrial section. Business men and manufacturers will be asked to make unusual efforts in constructing floats, prizes will be given and prominent assignment will be made of all such features in giving them the best locations in the section.

Another feature, or rather a change, will be made in the as heretofore stereotyped order of exercises in that, after the parade picnic parties may be formed on the court house lawn, where splendid concerts will be given during the afternoon, and instead of winding up the day at 4 or 5 p. m., an evening program will be carried out on all sides of the public square. Illuminations, decorations, possibly an address by a prominent organized labor representative, thus giving all a chance to enjoy the exercises in the evening, with a short rest in the afternoon. Reports from unions and merchants indicate the largest and grandest labor day demonstration ever made by organized labor in Newark.

ONE LEGGED LAD IS MAKING WALK AROUND WORLD

One of the most remarkable feats ever attempted by a one legged boy is the feat now being accomplished by Ralph D. Tompkins, of Newburg, N. Y. Leaving home on Nov. 27, 1912, he started on his attempted tour of the world and has so far succeeded in touring entirely the states all along the Atlantic coast and as far west as Illinois, making in all twenty states.

This feat has never before in the history of the United States been accomplished by any one legged pedestrian of any nationality. We would naturally think that due to his physical handicap he would find it impossible to complete such a prodigious task but when we see him swinging along between his crutches, as a pole vaulter uses his vaulting pole, we begin to realize that his physical handicap is not a hindrance but an advantage in walking.

When Tompkins was a mere lad, while playing with companions in the railroad yards, he had the misfortune to lose his right leg. The young man is now 20 years of age and is always smiling and whistling as he swings along on his crutches and feels just as joyous as if he had both limbs. He often says, "better one leg than none," and refuses to brood over his misfortune saying, "there are a great many more handicapped than me."

The young man got permission Saturday morning to sing on the streets within certain limits and sell sheet music by means of which he is earning a sum sufficient to meet his necessary expenses.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

VOTE FOR WILL H. MILES.

By temperament and training no other man in the county is better qualified for county treasurer than Will H. Miles.

He was born and reared on a Licking county farm. He was educated in the schools of the county, being a graduate of the Hanover High school.

For a number of years after graduating he taught in the rural schools during the winter months and worked on the farm in the summer.

Afterwards he was superintendent of the St. Louisville schools, a position which he resigned at the end of four years to accept that of deputy in the office of County Treasurer, a position which he has filled for a period of years with honor to himself and credit to his employer.

In politics he was reared a Democrat and has always been affiliated with that party, and, though not a radical, he has always stood and worked for the highest ideals of democracy.

As a worker he has ever been in the front ranks of his party, yet he has never before asked for recognition.

The many years spent on the farm give him a knowledge of farm life that fits him peculiarly well to meet the requirements of the farmer tax payer. On the other hand his service as deputy in the office has given him a knowledge of the details of the office that makes his service very valuable to all classes.

In the years that he has worked in the office he has served an apprenticeship that qualifies him beyond all competition for the duties of the office to which he aspires, and if the voters of Licking county nominate an elect Will H. Miles for county treasurer they are assured of the same courteous treatment, and high class service that has always distinguished this office.

By honest work and strict attention to duty Miles has placed himself in the front rank.

He is no experimenter.

He has been tried as deputy and can deliver the goods.

He is now asking the reward of a faithful apprenticeship.

Vote for Miles and make no mistake.

Figures Showing Number of Democratic Voters

Who Have Signed the Petitions of the Candidates for Congress in the 17th District. Facts That Should Be Known By Every Democratic Voter in Licking County.

The Ashland Press, one of the leading Democratic papers of the state, does itself proud in the stand it always takes for the right in matters pertaining to the success and welfare of the Democratic party. The Press publishes information pertaining to the candidacy for the Democratic Congressional nomination that is of value to every Democratic voter in the 17th district, and that is of especial value to the Democratic voters of Licking county. The Advocate values this information from the Ashland Press and gladly takes the opportunity to reproduce the facts to its readers.

The Ashland Press gives the figures from the record of the County Board of Elections, showing the number of Democratic voters who signed their names to the petitions of the several candidates for the Congressional nomination. In giving these figures the Press shows an equal regard to the Democratic voters as it does for the candidates. The voters have no bubbles to burst that will disappear into thin air when the votes are counted on the night of August 11, of this year 1914. From the article of the Press in its issue of June 12th, the Advocate herewith reproduces the figures showing the number of party voters who signed the petitions of the several Congressional candidates.

Total number of Democratic signatures to Congressman Ashbrook's petitions, 11,177. These petitions came from the several counties of the district as follows:

For Ashbrook from Licking county	3365
For Ashbrook from Coshocton county	2354
For Ashbrook from Ashland county	1645
For Ashbrook from Richland county	1398
For Ashbrook from Knox county	1305
For Ashbrook from Delaware county	1210
Total	11,177

This is a testimonial that is a settler as to the popularity of Congressman Ashbrook, for these Democratic names constitute 44 per cent of the entire vote cast for Governor Cox in the district at the election in 1912. In Coshocton county Mr. Ashbrook's petitioners constitute 64 per cent of the entire vote polled in the county for the head of the ticket in 1912, while in Licking county Ashbrook's petitions have over 52 per cent of the entire Democratic vote cast for Governor Cox in 1912. These figures are record evidences of the overwhelming sentiment in the 17th district for Congressman Ashbrook's re-nomination. Every intelligent constituency knows the value of the services that can be rendered them by a Congressman whose industry, long experience and familiarity with the Departments at Washington enable him to do what Mr. Ashbrook so promptly does and has done for his constituents on all occasions.

This fact makes every intelligent Democratic voter desire to know how many petitioners have signed up for Mr. Ashbrook's opponents and every one has a right to know. For this reason the Advocate will give the figures from the petitions on file in the office of the County Board of Elections, so that the Democratic voters can make their own comparisons as they have an undoubted right to do.

Total signatures to petitions for candidate Wm. Green, 643. Of these none are from Licking county.

Total signatures to petitions for candidate W. D. Fulton, 711. Of these, the total of 411 are from Licking county.

Total signatures to petitions for Curtis McBride, 1417. Of these none are from Licking county.

These record figures make the total showing from Licking county as follows:

In favor of Wm. A. Ashbrook, 3365.

Opposed to Ashbrook, filed by W. D. Fulton, 411.

These figures speak for themselves and no comment is necessary. The count of the vote on the night of the primary election will show how correctly the voters have rendered their verdict.

Woodrow Wilson.

In one of his fine, irradiating positions of things current and political, Frank Irving Cobb, the strongest editorial writer who has appeared in New York since Horace Greeley, thus sums up the situation which "Big Business" has raised betwixt Woodrow Wilson and itself:

"With every economic question that has come before him the President has sought to deal prudently, cautiously and sanely. No word of demagoguery has fallen from his lips. He has indulged in no reckless agitation; he has made no incendiary appeals to popular passion; he has neither denounced, nor abused, nor threatened. He has sought to carry out no economic policies that he was not elected specifically to carry out, and yet the great business interests of the East have fought him at every step with every weapon at their command. He offered them peace and they have chosen war. Having chosen war, they can expect no truce until the issue is decided. They themselves have created a situation in which there is nothing for Congress to do but to go ahead with the administration's program and carry it through."

This is no more than just. Wherever Woodrow Wilson has placed his hand upon a sore spot in our commercial, financial and political body it has been the hand of a healer.—Louisville Courier Journal.

At Summer Resorts.

A person who should make a tour of a considerable number of summer resorts would be impressed by the enormous amount of money being spent in what may fairly be called extravagances.

Tourists must often question who supports all the top priced hotels. The millionaires occupy a large place in the public eye. But when you come to enumerate them, they are

By the Way

If you believe in the improbable, you will be regarded as progressive.

A boy does the losing and his mother the finding.

When a girl marries a man she doesn't love, it isn't to please her parents. It is because she believes the man can show her a better time than she has been accustomed to having.

Some men go to extremes. The Kansas man who recently shot his wife because he loved her, also killed his father-in-law, his infant son and himself.

When a girl pretends to have been abducted by strange men, that is another indication her family is not socially prominent.

If a man knows where a dollar can be made he will not tell you about it; he will go after it himself.

The most leisurely parade is that given by the man who has caught a long string of fish.

Considering how hard it is to do, a surprisingly large number of men make a living in the grocery business.

You can not attract the attention of the people by playing the piano well, but you can do it by getting out in the middle of the street and pounding a tin pan.

Jasper Ellington having been advised that it is not proper to call them "widow women," now refers to them as "widow ladies."

The Cleveland women have put up anti-swear posters in the street-cars and factories, but strangely enough they omitted to post the golf links.

The sale of books of poetry is said to have increased to an amount sufficient to provide the author with stamps to send his manuscripts around.

The great trouble with many of the colleges in this country is that the recitation halls were built before the ball field and the stadium.

The makers of women's styles have decided that skirts shall be shorter and fuller next fall, in spite of the fact that this is in the direction of common sense.

Seventy is the ideal age for a man. By the time a man is 70 years old he not only knows that he is through, but he doesn't mind it.

In reply to an often repeated question, this newspaper would inform "Constant Reader" that the maxim "Cleanliness is next to godliness" is neither from the Bible nor Shakespeare, but will be found in Rev. Charles Wesley's sermon on "Dress."

It is believed that Shakespeare's plays might still be made to pay, if they were accompanied by a good looking chorus of high kickers.

Wrong Inference.

"I suppose you think that candidate you've picked out is honest because he's poor," said Farmer Corn-tassel.

"That's likely to be inferred," replied the political manager.

"Well, the inference is liable to go wrong. The reason he isn't well fixed is that he hasn't been trying to get rich quick by 'green goods.'"

MAKING GOOD.

Paragraphs

Good Roads Needed.

The point has been reached where Muskingum county must turn its attention to improving its roads. Too long already has it been indifferent to the absolute necessity for good highways throughout the county, and as a result "the neighboring counties are actually invading Muskingum county by inviting our people to their county seats. Consequently, Zanesville is suffering. WE MUST BUILD GOOD ROADS IN SELF-DEFENSE. Every adjoining county—Perry, Licking, Coshocton and Guernsey—is building good roads to our county line. What is the result? Trade, which belongs to Zanesville and Muskingum county towns is being turned into these counties."
—Zanesville Times Recorder.

One Objection.

Baltimore wants to have the Star Spangled Banner adopted as the national anthem, but the rising generation will be sure to fill the objection that you can't dance to it.—Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

United States Growth.

A census bulletin, just issued puts the population of the United States at 109,000,000. This is a gain of about 7,000,000 since the last bulletin was issued four years ago. One hundred and nine million people in the United States! What does that mean? It means, first of all, that the country is too big to be run entirely from Washington; that the necessity of efficient state and local governments is greater than it ever was before. It means that more attention must be paid to the problems of the organization of industry—particularly to the distribution of labor; that where the human interests involved are so large the old haphazard methods will not answer.
—Chicago Herald.

The Colonel's Latest.

They are mixing up things politically in New York, with Colonel Roosevelt as chief compounder of the mess. His latest adoption is former Senator Harvey D. Hinman for the Republican nomination for governor. One would suppose T. R. could have no interest in the Republican ticket other than to defeat it, but with 1916 not so far away, and no hope of Progressive party success, he wants a Republican candidate for governor in New York who, in his belief, can be elected. Senator Hinman has kissed the rod by declaring his political hostility to Barnes and Murphy, and as a reward the colonel is to make a whirlwind campaign in behalf of Hinman, who, if the Roosevelt counsel prevails, will also be placed on the Progressive ticket.

FLORENCE ALEXANDER
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Alexander, 555 North Fourth street, Newark.

"During one of the warm days in the past week a little barefoot tot said to her mother: 'Oh, Mother, it's so hot I have a notion to take all my clothes off and go barefoot all over!'"

A little North Third street boy, proud to be regarded as his mother's assistant, was helping her one day with the dishes. "Wipe the pans dry," cautioned his mother, "or they'll rust." A short time afterward while talking his bath he happened to remember the admonition and said to his mother, "Wipe my neck dry, mother, or it'll rust."

Mary's school days will begin next September and she is finding much joy in anticipating the many lovely things she is going to learn. In recounting some of them she said, "I'm going to learn to read and write and spell and then I'm going to study FRACTIONOUS like Cousin Mabel."

William's mother was quite busy and he had been told to wheel the baby up and down the sidewalk to keep it quiet. While he was in the discharge of this unexciting employment a boy chum appeared and it was not long before they evolved a scheme for putting a "little ginger into it." One boy pushed the perambulator to the top of the terrace and sent it spinning down to the sidewalk where it was received and swiftly returned by the other boy. Just as the fun was waxing fast and furious the horrified mother happened to see it. Hastening to the rescue she handed out some language that stung like a whiplash. "Go home, you bad boy," she ended, "and never dare come here again." He took this advice and went home whimpering to such an extent that his mother inquired what was the matter. "We were just wheelin' the kid up and down the terrace," he answered, "and Mrs. Jones came out and told me to go home and never come back." Then tingling with resentment, he concluded, "They're awful careful of their old kid. You'd think it was the only one in town."

ANNA BELLE AND HER DOLLS VERY POPULAR

The children came to the Advocate office in large numbers Saturday, each bringing three Advocate coupons of different dates and a dime to exchange for Anna Belle and her two dolls. A demand has been anticipated, but the Advocate didn't expect Anna Belle would be as popular as she proved to be and the result was the entire supply of dolls was exhausted early in the day.

As the rush started it was apparent that the supply of dolls would soon be exhausted so a rush order was telegraphed to the factory and a new supply should reach the Advocate office not later than next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn. — "I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do." — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

DECIDING ON STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Dallas, Texas, July 25.—Whether state-wide prohibition shall be voted on by Texas citizens in the summer of 1915, and whether the next governor shall be a prohibitionist or anti-prohibitionist, were the main issues in today's Democratic state primary election. The primary was to nominate eighteen candidates for congress, candidates for the legislature and state and county officials from governor down. In all the important offices named today was equivalent to election. This was a "white" primary, negroes not being qualified.

The submission of statewide prohibition by constitutional amendment next summer depends entirely on today's vote on a resolution instructing the legislature for or against submission.

"FAKE" MARRIAGE; HELD A PRISONER OVER THREE YEARS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, July 25.—Claiming that she was virtually held a prisoner over three years following a fake marriage ceremony, Apollonia Schimel, 20, today caused the arrest of Joseph Malin, 28. She told the police she met Malin three years ago, that he promised to marry her and took her to Pittsburgh where they went through a marriage ceremony, later returning to Cleveland where they have since resided. Malin, she said, abused her and made her supply him with money while he was idle. She recently learned that the marriage was illegal, she said.

ARRANGES FOR SHIPMENT OF HIS CATTLE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
El Paso, July 25.—A concession to export from Chihuahua state all the cattle owned by Louis Terrazas, Sr., was consummated with General Villa today according to an announcement by J. B. Garratta, of Corpus Christi, Texas. "It was said the first shipment would total approximately 200,000 head and that most of the cattle would be marketed at Kansas City, Ft. Worth and St. Joseph."

Observers here predicted that this deal ultimately would result in the release of Louis Terrazas, Jr., who has been held a prisoner by General Villa on account of his alleged Huerta sympathies.

Java's Teak Forests.
Teak forests in Java cover 1,480,000 acres, and as the area reforested is two and a half times as large as the area felled in a given time, this magnificent stock of timber is continually increasing. A pest of the Java teak plantation is alang grass (Imperata arundinacea). In order to prevent the incursion of this plant, as hoeing is too expensive, the foresters sow a leguminous plant, lucerna glauca, between the rows of teak seedlings. This chokes the alang, keeps the soil clean and enriches the soil in humus and nitrogen, and ultimately disappears with the increase of the forest cover.

TEN COACHES REQUIRED FOR JEWETT TRIP

With Cedar Point as their goal the much-looked-forward-to Jewett excursion to Cedar Point left this morning. Ten coaches were required to accommodate the employees of the Jewett Car Company, their families and friends. The crowd consisted of over 600, and gave promise of being one of the most enjoyable excursions of the year.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the party at Cedar Point, and many of the crowd carried well-filled baskets of good things from home which were to furnish them with eatables for the day.

This is the second excursion of this character from Newark, and everything pointed to a glorious good time.

How Yucatan Gets Its Water.

In Yucatan the people depend for their water supply chiefly on what are known as "cenotes," or subterranean lakes, fed by hidden underground rivers or a network of water courses. Some of these are so near the surface that the soil has given way and left a surface pond or reservoir; others again are reached only by powerful pumps or a system of ladders by which the women descend into enormous caverns or traverse narrow galleries to fill their jars from the hidden springs; and in some cases, the entrance to these deep caverns is a considerable distance from the nearest village or farm. Sometimes a crust of rock is left over such a "cenote" with an aperture through which the daylight reaches the cavern, forming a real grotto, with stalactites and stalagmites of considerable beauty.

Nearly all of the ancient cities and modern towns and haciendas are located near some one of these subterranean water caverns.—Charles Winslow Hall in National Magazine.

Like a Lake of Flame.

One of the most remarkable of the hot springs in the Yellowstone National park is Firehole lake, in which flames seem to appear in the water. These flames are seen from only two points, and should the wind be causing a disturbance of the water the tourist may not see them at all. At the eastern end of this small lake is a circular opening of a deep seated spring pot which other vents of thermal waters. Through this vent, which usually stands full of clear, transparent water, numerous bubbles of mingled air and superheated steam rise gradually. Before reaching the surface they unite to form one large mass that in its upward passage strikingly resembles a flame of fire. This continues until the bubble bursts, only to be followed by a repetition of the phenomenon. The explanation is that the slightly agitated water is collected in the thin film of the ascending volume of gas. The phenomena are far better seen at Firehole lake than elsewhere, but under favorable conditions they may be seen at other localities, but in a far less striking manner.

Sacred Bangles.

One of the oldest and most curious of existing industries is the making of narrow rings or bracelets, called bangles, from the chank, or sacred shell of the Hindus. This conch-Turkinnella pyrum, Linn.—is found chiefly at a depth of about two fathoms in the gulf of Mannar, and about 2,000,000 of the shells are exported annually to Calcutta. So important is the bangle of the Hindu women that J. Hornell, representing the Madras government, has specially investigated the industry. Tracing the early history of chank ornaments, Mr. Hornell is unable to assign prehistoric specimens in the Madras museum to the later stone age, as had been previously done, but believes marks on some of them were made by metal implements. He has found, however, remains of ancient bangle factories scattered over the greater part of India. Bangle cutting is now confined almost entirely to Bengal, and it proves to be in flourishing condition in spite of the growing taste for gold ornaments.

Sealed Orders.

Bachelor Uncle—Well, Frankie, what do you want now? Frankie—Oh, I want to be rich. Uncle—Rich? Why? Frankie—Because I want to be petted, and you says you are an old fool, but must be petted because you are rich, but it's a great secret, and I mustn't tell."

Scholarship.

The scholar is more inclined to inquire than to affirm. He is more ready to ask, "What do you think?" than to say, "I know."—C. F. Thwing.

Think of ease, but work on.—George Herbert.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain out from 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair, your charm, it makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it works, and naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. SIGNING UP FOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Up to date over 100 have signed up for the tennis tournament that is to be played on the well equipped courts of the White Athletic Field. The courts are probably the best in the city, and the tournament promises to be one of the most interesting and fully contested of any that have ever been staged in Newark.

The vast number of the younger generation that daily flock to the playground swelling its attendance is not known generally to the people of Newark. The Riverside playground averages over 150 children per day; the Heisey playground 200; the White Athletic Field 400. This makes a total attendance at all of the playgrounds for the week 4500 children.

Following are the rules of the tournament with which all those who enter must comply:

1. This tournament shall be called the Newark, O. lawn tennis tournament and the winners in this tournament shall be considered the champion tennis players of Newark.

2. The purpose of this tournament is to further promote the interest in the game of lawn tennis.

3. The rules of the National Lawn Tennis association will govern all games.

4. Any person who is a resident of Newark is eligible to enter this tournament.

5. All persons desiring to compete in this tournament should enter not later than Monday, July 27.

6. The tournament will consist of singles and doubles for boys and mixed doubles. Suitable prizes will be given the winners of each contest.

7. Each match will be decided by the two best in three sets. The matches will be arranged by drawing.

8. All games in this tournament must be played on the White Athletic Field tennis courts and under the supervision of the playground managers.

9. All match games will be played in the afternoon unless otherwise arranged for by the playground managers.

10. The contests in the tournament will begin Tuesday, July 28, and continue each day until the tournament is finished.

Housomaid Courtships.

A gaily govt and garrulous housemaid set down by an acquaintance on a trolley and at once said: "Hello, Sadie! Where you livin' now?" "Nowhere," was the reply.

"How's that?" "I'm married."

"You ain't!" "Sure thing. Look at that!" She held up her unloved left hand in triumph, for there on the third finger was a shining new wedding ring.

Starting at it in wonder for a moment, the other girl asked, "Well, who got stung?"—Chicago Herald.

Birmingham (England) gunmakers report a shortage of skilled labor.

Pickpockets.
Pickpockets ordinarily travel in mobs and are of two distinct types—one small or medium stature, the other tall and muscular. As a general rule, the age runs from eighteen to thirty-five. Their hands are soft, show no signs of work and the fingers of all except the "stall," and particularly the fingers of the "wire" are long and slender. Their eyes are shifting and furtive. Their complexion is generally sallow and without distinct color, this being due either to prison pallor in types or to the use of cocaine or other drugs. The cocaine users show drawn features, prominent cheekbones and usually have distinct rings around the eyes. The temperament of pickpockets is high strung, because of the dangers of the profession or from the use of drugs. At the same time they are polite almost to the point of obsequiousness. They seldom carry weapons and almost never resort to force. On duty they dress to suit the occasion, especially well, but not conspicuously. They avoid wearing anything that might lead to identification.—Chicago News.

When an Eskimo Dies.
When an Eskimo is dying you will notice the inmates of the house moving everything out of doors; otherwise it would be contaminated by the presence of the dead man and rendered unfit for use. Among some tribes the dying man himself is borne outside. He is never taken out through the entrance tunnel, but always through the smoke hole or back of the house, and the passage is then closed so that his spirit will not find its way back. The Eskimos appear to have an uncanny presentiment of the approach of that dread spirit who comes to one and all. When you see them preparing the graveclothes of one of their number who is ill you may know that his end is near. I do not think that they do anything to hasten the end, although they may stab or hang the hopelessly infirm at their own request. It appears to be an instinctive feeling which is common to primitive people and which is often noticed in the lower animals.—Wide World Magazine.

"Old Hickory."
The following story is told of how General Andrew Jackson got his title of "Old Hickory." Captain William Allen, who was a near neighbor of the general, messed with him during the Creek war. During the campaign the soldiers were moving rapidly to surprise the Indians and were without tents. A cold March wind came on, mingled with sleet, which lasted for several days. General Jackson got a severe cold, but did not complain as he tried to sleep in a muddy bottom among his half frozen soldiers. Captain Allen and his brother, John, cut down a stout hickory tree, peeled off the bark and made a covering for the general, who was with difficulty persuaded to crawl under it. The next morning a drunken citizen entered the camp and, seeing the tent, kicked it over. As Jackson crawled from the ruins the toper cried: "Hello, Old Hickory! Come out of your bark and jine us in a drink."

Telling Your Age.
I know you won't believe me when I tell you that I'm only eighteen, but really when I was nine years old people used to take me for twenty. I was always mature and sensible, and I've always thought a whole lot, and thought is bound to leave its mark on you. Why, my father had gray hair when he was sixteen, but that doesn't mean anything. I have a friend who's only fourteen and yet everybody takes him for a man of sixty. You can't always judge by appearances because I have another friend who's thirty-eight and has a family and yet he looks so young people take him for his own son. I know you think I'm not telling the truth, but why people should lie about their age is more than I know.—New York Sun.

Peetages Lacking in Permanence.
Peetages have little of the permanence of pyramids. Forty years ago a careful calculation was made which showed that of 217 peetages created during the preceding forty-five years only 133 remained upon the rolls. Of the Plantagenet peetages only fourteen survived, of the Tudor eleven and of the Stuart forty-six. During the reign of George III. more than 400 titles were created, of which in 1875 270 had disappeared.—London Standard.

The Other Way.
"I heard that Ranter broke down in the middle of his speech the other night," said the man who was kept at home by illness.
"Not exactly," replied the man who was there. "The meeting broke up right in the middle of his speech."

Very Likely.
Mr. Green—Do you know how I felt during the wedding ceremony today?
Miss Sharp—No. How was it?
Mr. Green—Well, I felt most profoundly thankful that I was not the bridegroom. Miss Sharp—Very likely the bride felt like that too.

Curtain Calls.
"I know a man who had a hundred curtain calls in a week."
"I suppose he was a matinee idol."
"No; he was a house furnisher."—Baltimore American.

The Mean Thing.
"Why are you mad at her?"
"I met her on the car today, and she said, 'Oh, let me pay your fare!' and I said, 'Oh, you mustn't,' and she didn't."—Houston Post.

OLD BUILDING BEING RAZED AFTER 75 YEARS

The old building being torn down at the corner of Third and West Main street to make room for the new structure to be erected by the Home Building Association, is one of the oldest yet standing in Newark, for many years the site was known as the Patton corner, for the reason that Dr. J. W. Patton for many years conducted a drug store in the building now being razed.
Mr. Thomas H. Sites said Saturday morning that the building was probably 75 years old as he remembered that it was built when he was a boy, by a man named Leymann, whose christian name he does not recall.
Leymann, for a long period of years, conducted a general store in what was then the biggest building in the town.
Mr. Sites does not remember the transfers of the property, if any, until it came into the possession of Dr. Patton.

LAST DAY AT NORTH RANDAL GRAND CIRCUIT

On a slow track at the last day's meeting of the Grand Circuit races at North Randall, Friday, Thomas Murphy's Frank Bogash Jr., paced a mile in 2:01 1-2, three-quarters of a second under William's mile of Tuesday. This again broke the North Randall track record and was the fastest mile paced this year. The feat was accomplished in the first heat of the championship sweepstakes, which Frank Bogash Jr. won in two straight heats.
The track was damp and looked very slow. It took seven heats to find a winner for the 2:14 class pacing event carried over from Thursday evening. Al Mackay finally captured first money by winning the fourth and last two heats. R. H. Breat, winner of two of the three heats run Thursday, was the favorite, but had to be content with second money.
Guy Nello took the 2:21 class trotting event in three straight heats. Barbara Overton, who pressed Guy Nello hard in the last two heats, secured second.
The 2:13 class trot went to Lucy Patchen, who took first, third and fifth heats. John Ruskin, who secured second money, won the other two heats.
The taken-away, a 2:06 class pace, was taken by Our Colonel, who won the last two of the four heats.

Green Diamonds.

While a real emerald colored diamond is rare, those with a green tinge are quite plentiful. The Museum of Natural history in Paris has several examples of green diamonds, but Dresden has the most famous, and it is one of the five marvels of gems known to the world.

of Austria, Servia contends that she is not able to reply to them on such short notice as she has not had sufficient time to consider them.

GRAVE VIEW BEING TAKEN OF SITUATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, July 25.—In all the European capitals today a grave view is taken of the Austro-Servian situation, arising out of the presentation to Servia by the Austrian government of a virtual ultimatum demanding the suppression of the Pan-Servian movement and the punishment of those concerned in the assassination in Bosnia of the heir to the Austrian imperial throne. Diplomatic circles see in the dispute and in the added possibility of Russian interference on behalf of the little Slav nation, the danger of general European war.
On the London stock exchange demoralization set in at the opening of business this morning to a rumor that Russia had begun to mobilize her great army in preparation for eventualities.
An Exchange Telegraph company's dispatch from Vienna says news received there today to the effect that the Servian government was making preparations to evacuate Belgrade, the capital. It adds that many of the troops already have left the city, which is considered untenable and are retiring toward the south.
A special dispatch from Vienna says the Russian charge d'affaires who requested the Austro-Hungarian foreign office for a prolongation of the

NEXT WEEK---The Great Remodeling, Rebuilding, Expansion, Clearance Sale Event of all Merchandise BEGINS IN EARNEST

Some day next week, the workmen are expected to invade the store and begin tearing out shelving, counters, racks and large partition walls, what will we do with the large quantities of merchandise? Sell every yard and every piece we possibly can, regardless of cost or former selling prices.

ALREADY, and this Remodeling Sale has just fairly begun. There has been thousands of dollars worth of merchandise disposed of, gone from the store leaving space behind, thereby giving the workmen working room, but there still remains, in many instances, the choicest merchandise; amounting to thousands of dollars that we prefer to get out of the way of the workmen at most any price rather than to have totally ruined.

Visit this store every day as each day you will find new groups marked at faster selling sale prices.

GENERAL EUROPEAN CONFLICT PROBABLE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, July 25.—The stock market here opened today under the impression that Austro-Servian hostilities were inevitable and that intervention of Russia and a general European conflict were increasingly probable.
Extensive selling orders broke prices along the whole line.
The precipitous declines in Balkan issues and Russian banks continued. St. Petersburg international opening 12 points lower.
Canadian Pacifics were heavily unloaded and opened 5 7-8 lower.
It was reported that the Berlin banks had agreed to support the market but only when prices had reached a lower level.
The demonstration of the stock exchange here continued as the day passed without the receipt of any intelligent news. Securities were dumped promiscuously on the market and prices on all sides continued to fall to an extent which had not been witnessed for years. Russian bank stocks and Austrian securities were the hardest hit. St. Petersburg international showed a loss of 23 points, the Russian bank of foreign trade 16 points, Turkish bonds 16 points, Turkish tobaccos 14 1-2 points, while Russian and Austrian government bonds did not recover their losses of the early morning.
Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg, the Imperial chancellor, has interrupted his holiday at his country seat at Hohenfinkow and announced his intention to return to Berlin tonight on account of the crisis.
Despite the absence of authentic news as to Servian and Russian intentions, public opinion in Berlin became increasingly pessimistic.
The newspaper ceased their discussion of the possibility of an arrangement of the Austro-Servian conflict and started an earnest contemplation of the probable attitude of Russia which would mean peace or war for the German nation.
At the foreign office here out-

TO MOBILIZE ARMY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Petersburg, July 25.—Orders for the prompt mobilization of the Russian army were looked for today as a result of the calling of the council of ministers, presided over by the emperor of Russia and held at the Palace of Peterhof early this morning.
From present indications Russia appears prepared to go to any extremes rather than tolerate the downfall of Servia.
Many of the newspapers of the Russian capital today demand the immediate mobilization of the Russian army on the Austrian frontier. The Bourse Gazette declares that Russia "cannot for a moment tolerate an attack on Servia or on Servian independence."
The newspaper adds that Russia, while not wanting war, "will not flinch from armed intervention to protect the Slav from German fury."

WOULD ISSUE PROCLAMATION OF NEUTRALITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 25.—In accord with a policy of absolute neutrality, should the Austro-Servian crisis develop into war, any attempt by any of the interested powers to purchase American warships would be promptly turned down by the United States in the opinion of officials here today.
President Wilson might issue a proclamation of neutrality which would clearly set forth just what commerce would be permitted between this country and the parties to the conflict which European chancelleries fear is imminent.

THE PIONEER

While old line life insurance, as it is written by practically any of the American companies, is all perfectly safe as to carrying out the guarantees contained in the policies, the service that is afforded by the various companies differs very materially.
The evolution of the life insurance contract has been an interesting study. A number of the large companies have been writing business for more than sixty years. Their first policies, and those issued for a number of years, bore no semblance to the modern contract, which experience has warranted their issuing with perfect safety.
The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Newark, N. J., now in its seventieth year, has been the pioneer in liberalizing insurance policies, having had non-forfeiture values in all of its policies since 1879. The Mutual Benefit (being a purely mutual company) has always extended, so far as possible, the liberal features incorporated in its later contracts, to all of its old policyholders, thus, eliminating any possibility of discrimination between its policyholders. The new policyholder of today is the old policyholder of tomorrow. It is of prime importance to any insurer to know thoroughly the character of service that insurance companies have rendered to their old policyholders.

This palace occupies a site at the southwest corner of the main group. To the left is the Half-Dome of Thought, constituting the main western entrance to the palace. This is one of two half-domes, suggested by similar recesses in the old Roman baths, which constitute the principal architectural embellishment of the western facade of the main group, the other being the Half-Dome of Vigor, the principal western entrance to the Palace of Food Products. The architecture of the Exposition is in composite style, in which all the classic and renaissance influences and certain Saracenic forms have been harmoniously co-ordinated.
